FLAGSTAFF, AZ – February 26, 2019 – We are pleased to announce that the Native Women Entrepreneurs of Arizona (NWEAZ) have been selected to attend the Titan Generator on March 9, 2019, in Austin, Texas. NWEAZ will be working with leaders from March for Our Lives, United We Dream, Color Of Change, and the International Indigenous Youth Council to explore common challenges and brainstorm innovative solutions together.

NWEAZ Group Organizing Committee members Cherylee Francis and Bleu Adams will travel to Austin, TX to learn more about combining social movements and engage with fellow entrepreneurs, funders, and influencers in an effort to advocate for Native women entrepreneurs.

"As Native Women Entrepreneurs of Arizona, our interest in attending the Titan Generator is to gather an understanding of commercial strategies in order to maximize the improvement of financial, environmental, and social impact for a Social Enterprise. We look forward to connecting with leaders from March for Our Lives, United We Dream, Color of Change, the International Indigenous Youth Council and to share with them the challenges Native Women Entrepreneurs of Arizona experience in our tribal communities", said Cherylee Francis.

Both, Francis and Adams, have elected to secure their travel costs at their own personal expense on behalf of NWEAZ.
